This past year, we, launched a new pilot programme. None of our supporters knew about anything more than our core life-skills education. In 2012, we started Project KHEL as a 21st-century life skills education programme that takes our unique approach into schools. That's another way we try to impart 21st-century life skills to children.

In 2012, we started Project KHEL as a curriculum intense programme, Made in Maidaan being a 40000 50000 0 5000 10000 15000 20000 25000 30000 35000 40000 of 21 admissions in light of all the other work we interesting.... we need to look at this small success recently.
